PUBLIC INVITED TO VISIT THE SCHOOL

CITIZENS ESPECIALLY INVITED FOR THIS WEEK

PART OF EDUCATION WEEK

Regular Work Will Be Conducted, Says Ziegler Today—Program Here for the Week

Patrons of the Maryville public schools will have an opportunity to observe the local schools in action this week in the observance of the National Education week which is from December 3 to 9. The citizens of Maryville are especially invited to visit the Maryville schools this week.

However the work will be nothing out of the ordinary. The regular routine of school work will be carried on and no finery or additional touches will be added. This fact was especially emphasized by Superintendent of Schools, L. E. Ziegler today.

This will be true in all of the elementary schools and the high school. Visitors will find that the work, which they will see is the regular work and that the teachers and the students have not made any effort to show off their ability.

For the benefit of persons who might wish to visit the schools for the purpose of studying some particular phase of the grade school work the following outline of the time of the recitation of the various subjects has been planned.

If the visitor goes to the school at 9 o'clock he will see the opening exercises which are held daily. Fifteen minutes later reading and literature are the order of the hour and the study of these subjects lasts until 9:40 o'clock at which time grammar and language are studied.

At 10:45 o'clock arithmetic and numbers are studied and at 1:15 o'clock history and geography are the subjects with which the students are working.

At 2 o'clock physical education, music, manual training, cooking and sewing are studied.

On Friday afternoon at 2:50 o'clock the regular weekly grade assembly is held. The assembly this week will not be out of the ordinary, but will embrace practically the same things outlined every week.

Friday night, the grade school Patriotic Pageant will be held and Thursday night the operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom," will be given under the auspices of the dramatic club and the high school orchestra.

Mr. Ziegler made it plain that the invitation to the public to visit the schools cannot be stressed too much. Everyone is invited to inspect the schools at any time, but they are especially invited this Educational Week.

The pupils of the B Sixth grade at the Central school were in the business district of Maryville this morning distributing tags with reference to visiting the schools. This afternoon the pupils of another room were out for the same purpose. The tags said, "I will visit the Public School this week."

MAYNOR SCHEDULES COLLEGE CONTESTS

IS IN ST. LOUIS TODAY WITH OTHER COACHES

PLANS FOR BASE BALL

Maynor May Schedule About 20 Basketball Games—Both Boys and Girls Start Practice

Eugene A. Maynor, coach at the State Teachers College is in St. Louis today attending a meeting of the coaches of the schools in the Missouri Intercollegiate Association, of which the State Teachers College is a member.

At this meeting Mr. Maynor is arranging the basketball schedule for this year and the football scedule for next year. He will also arrange for the dual meets in track for next spring as well as for a series of baseball games.

It has been reported that the basketball schedule for this year at the College will embrace twenty conference games. This would mean that Coach Maynor's basketeers would play on the average of more than one a week.

He will return from this meeting Wednesday. Basketball practice will start immediately on his return.

It looks as if the number of men out for the squad this year will be larger than ever before and from the individual value of the different players the College should turn out a winning if not a championship team.

Ernest Ellis, captain and guard on the mythical all-Northwest high school team of last year, enrolled in school today and he should boost the squad quite a bit. Along with such players of repute as Miller, Leech, Egley, Kirby and Foerman, Coach Maynor will have an aggregation noted for fast floor work, good basket shots and superior guarding and passing.

The girls team at the College is gradually rounding into shape. Coach Mary MacLeod has been working with her girls for a few weeks and she said this morning that intensive practice will start tomorrow.

It is planned for the girls to play one game before the Christmas holidays. A game has already been matched with Hardin College for later in the season and Miss MacLeod is now waiting for a reply from some twenty letters.

STILL WORKING ON WABASH ROBBERY

OFFICER ED WALLACE HOME FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS TONIGHT

A SHENANDOAH CLUE?

It is Reported Shenandoah Woman Heard Three Men Planned the Robing of Depot Here

Officer Ed Wallace, who with Postoffice Inspector F. D. Florea and Special Agent Marshall of the Wabash left Saturday evening for Council Bluffs, working on the Wabash robbery case here, had not returned home today. No word was received from Mr. Wallace except that he would be home this evening.

These officers before leaving Maryville Saturday evening on No. 3, recieved word that a woman at Shenandoah had heard three men talk about the robbery of the Wabash depot here and requested these officers to stop over there on their way to Council Bluffs. These officers made a stop at Shenandoah that evening and were said to have picked up some clues. It was understood Deputy Sheriff Cleveland at Shenandoah joined the officers there and accompanied them on to Council Bluffs.

Special Agent Marshall of the Wabash went through Maryville this morning on train No. 12 on his way to Stanberry but did not say what they had been able to find. He reported Officer Wallace would return to Maryville this evening.

It was not known today whether Officer Wallace had been able to get William Shoemaker and a woman, whom he represented as his wife, and later found to be Mary Stillman of Kansas City, who were arrested in Council Bluffs Saturday. Shoemaker is wanted here for violating the prohibition law but it is thought the federal authorities at Council Bluffs will refuse to turn him over to the authorities here.

It was thought by some of the officers that the robbery of the Community Cash Hardware store at Quitman and the Wabash depot here Friday night was done by the same parties. Night Operator W. D. Williams of the Wabash reported there was only one man who robbed the depot here. He was unable to tell whether or not there was a waiting automobile.

Stanley Phender, deputy sheriff of Page County, Iowa, is in a hospital in Clarinda today, at the point of death, as a result of a gun battle between himself and some car thieves, whom he intercepted in the act of robbing a garage at Clarinda early this morning.

About 1:30 o'clock Phender, along with the night watchman, discovered two men attempting to enter a garage in Clarinda. A gun battle followed in which the deputy was shot and seriously wounded. The men made their escape.

It is believed that there were three men and that the other who was in an automobile nearby, made his escape. That being the case the robbers are still in or near Clarinda.

Blood hounds have been placed on the trail.

POKER AND KNIFE USED

John Weddle of Graham Charged With Selling Liquor and Gaming—Fight at Seeley Restaurant.

Quitman was the scene of a fight and a gaming party last night, according to information received by Prosecuting Attorney Charles McCaffrey and Sheriff Steve Roach. Up to press time five had been arrested and two others were expected to be arrested late this afternoon.

According to the story told the authorities, it seems John Weddle of Graham, who was arrested today for violating the prohibition law, was in Quitman last evening with some liquor. A gaming party was first had, it was said, with the participants being Weddle, Jim Wilfong of Graham, Del Murphy, Ora Seeley, Chick Ware and Arch Strange. Dan Barrett witnessed the game, but was said not to have played in it. About 2:30 o'clock this morning, the entire party adjourned to the restaurant of Ora Seeley. At the restaurant, trouble started between Seeley and Dan Barrett, and Seeley picked up a stove poker and Barrett a butcher knife. Shortly afterwards Seeley called up Deputy Sheriff W. W. Randall and wanted Dan Barrett arrested for disturbing his peace. Randall and Sheriff Roach went to Quitman at once and when they got there Barrett was waiting for them.

Barrett accompanied the officers back to Maryville and in the meantime information was secured about the gaming party.

TIERNAN IS STILL LOST IN CHICAGO

"INTER-STATE HUSBAND" STILL ELUDES AUTHORITIES

A NEWSPAPER HIDES HIM

Sensational Charges Made Today That One Paper Keeps Him and Another Is Hiding "Blanche"

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 4—A call for Sherlock Holmes, John P. Tiernan, the "Inter-state husband," who was erroneously represented Saturday, as being confined in a psychopathic ward, is still missing. Tiernan disappeared Friday at a half after nine and has not been seen since. Today, however, the authorities continue their search to serve the warrant of Judge F. S. Rimer, which would commit Tiernan to the hospital for examination. The mystery grows deeper again.

The authorities are without a single clew. A Chicago newspaper comes out with the sensational story that one paper is keeping Tiernan and his "now-and-then- wife," in seclusion, while a rival paper is holding Mrs. Blanche Brimmer Tiernan, his second wife.

Both seem to have a "scoop." But be that as it may, a showdown must come soon. The professor's brother, Peter Tiernan, a prominent corporation lawyer of New York City, is on his way to Chicago, to find out, "what it is all about."

The main thing now is to find Tiernan. It has been intimated by those on the "inside" that there is much need for a sanity test, that Tiernan is crazy. Tiernan has said that he hates publicity but has planned to make an extensive lecture tour and charge "so much per head," to hear his story.

295 ENROLLED AT S. T. C. AT 3 THIS AFTERNOON

Winter Term Opens Today and Students are Busy Filling Out Enrollment Cards.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, 295 students had signed up their enrollment cards and entered them at the Registrar's office.

Enrollment for the winter quarter at the State Teachers College started at 8 o'clock this morning. The students are registering in the library at the College. A committee from the faculty has been detailed to pass on the registration cards for each of the classes and when a student fills out his card he must go to the particular faculty member for his respective class and have his card passed on.

The members of the faculty are all at the College with exception of Mr. Maynor, who is in St. Louis. In his absence the registration for his classes is being carried on by Leston Webb and Howard Leech, Senior students.

The grades for the fall quarter have all been turned in and the students were able to find out their grades by applying for them at the office of the registrar.

Dean Colbert is in his office today taking care of the credits for the different students.

A different method of filling out the class slips for each class is being used this year. Instead of the student filling out his own clips he goes direct to the teacher of that particular subject and this instructor fills out the blanks, thereby lessening the chances of mistakes in the work.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

NOT AFRAID OF WORK.

On reading Thomas A. Edison's recent diatribe against the alleged laziness of college students and their special disinclination toward mental tasks many persons must have thought instantly of the large number of young men who are working their way through our educational institutions and who are ready to tackle any honest job by which they may earn a small sum.

An official statement just issued by the Bureau of Student Employment at Princeton shows that 500 students last year earned a total of $161,530. Their occupations on the side, ranged from conducting a clothes pressing establishment and selling shoe shining tickets to waiting on table in the university dining halls. The students' pressing business handled over a thousand suits a week. The university laundry also gave employment to a large number of students.

However it may be at foreign universities, college students in this country who work their way do not lose caste among their fellows. On the contrary, they are honored as they should be.

If it was ever true, it is no longer so that there is any university or college in America where the majority of students are the sons of rich parents or disdain any sort of hard work. And Mr. Edison ought to realize that the sort of fellows who make such sacrifices for an education are not going to be shirkers in after life. They are emphatically the ones who make good wherever you put them.

TRAINING IN SPORTSMANSHIP.

People who do not believe much in college and school athletics may think that the time spent in football and baseball is largely wasted. But these athletes get something beside whatever physical benefit comes from their experience.

One great gain is the training they get in dealing with opponents. To the raw and undeveloped boy, an opposing team is a kind of enemy, which is viewed with hostility and perhaps treated roughly.

The college and school athlete learns to bear himself like a gentleman in meeting opponents. Instead of regarding them as hostile invaders, and making them feel like enemies on his ground, he meets them with the utmost courtesy, and makes them feel comfortable and at home. In the contact on the field, he is just as anxious to give the square deal as to get it. When a boy attains a spirit of this kind, he acquires a form of chivalry that arouses admiration, and must win him friends when he gets out into the conflict of life.

Some of those foreign nations don't seem to want peace in Europe so much as a piece of Europe.

Buttons have become so valuable that they are hardly ever found in the collection plate any more.

Former Secretary William G. McAdoo has been arrested for speeding in California but he showed that he is a fast runner any way and a lot of his friends will consider that a good omen for 1924.

The Chattanooga, Tennessee, Times describes a situation in that state that has become quite general and sooner or later some great political crusaders will have to rise and clean up the pitiful mess into which the country's politics is gradually slipping. The Times says: "In Tennessee we are suffering particularly for want of big-brained self-reliant and courageous men of character and principle. Young men are not developing for the public service and it is of melancholy import that so many of them of the sort needed in the service have developed an aversion for politics and a contempt for politicians. Such a condition is doubly hurtful to good government and sound public policies, because it not only keeps the best of our young men out of public life but it develops in the minds of the people a serious doubt as to the soundness of their system of government and breeds a dangerous disregard for authority for which at least they think they have no reason to show respect."

Maryville Needs a Creamery.

Editor Democrat-Forum: It has occurred to me of late that there was an industry lacking in our city and township, one I think that could be made profitable to its stockholders and of much benefit to our city. That is a creamery. Some may say "shucks," we have had two and both failed. I am not here to say why they failed, but I am convinced a creamery placed in a good and convenient location and conducted in a first class business way could be made a success and both producers and consumers benefitted.

Look at the hundreds of creameries located through Iowa and Minnesota and all reported as money makers.

As it is here, our farmers bring their product to town and dispose of it to the various dealers who ship to creameries away from here where it is made into butter and returned by express, and consumers not only pay the price the producers receive, but freight charges both ways.

If the members of the Chamber of Commerce could lend their influence and push to this as they have to other enterprises, its establishment and success would be assured.

In Missouri the deaths from tuberculosis have been reduced from 5113 in 1911 to 3010 in 1921.

These acts of vaudeville will be given in addition to the regular run of pictures.

These three bills have been the feature of the Pantages circuit this year. Attractive scenery and costumes are used throughout and the acting is of the best.

In the St. Joseph Gazette of a week ago the company presenting these bills received a good story. The chorus is mentioned as good and the different actors commended for their voices and action. A number of attractive and original specialties are used.

Civilization Going Backward Believes Noted Sociologist

BY DR. L. T. HOBHOUSE
Professor of Sociology in London University, a Great Authority on Evolution

London, Dec. 4—We are face to face, all of us, with a problem demanding the fullest attention if we are to escape consequences as serious as to be incalculable. We are going through a period comparable in many respects I think, to the Roman Empire in the century after Christ.

It is a period in which undoubtedly we have to face the possibility of one nation after another going back to grass.

No pessimistic attitude of mind, however, induces me to accept Mr. H. G. Wells' views on the danger that exists, for I have never been impressed with jeremiads about the decay of our civilization. I have always thought that at bottom our civilization was healthy. Eugenic complaints have always appeared particularly irrational. The main stock of the peoples in this and other countries is virile in the extreme and abundantly capable of all the fundamental virtues, as the experience of the war amply showed.

Disagrees With Wells

Nor is my agreement with Mr. Wells on this subject based on any readiness to accept prophecy of disaster. I do not think now it is a matter for prophesy at all. Some considerable portions of Eastern and Central Europe are palpably retrograding before our eyes.

The urban life characteristic of civilization is diminishing, if not even breaking up, and these countries are reverting to a kind of pleasant or agrarian status.

The characteristic features of the situation in Eastern and Central Europe extend far beyond that area, in which we detect the actual dissolution of the civilization we have known.

From this we may fairly infer that the progress of retrogression will continue and will extend if no intelligent effort is made to understand and remove the causes. Those causes seem to lie rather in the moral and political than in the economic sphere.

In the first instance they are due to the fact that the temper engendered by the Great War has never yielded, as one might have expected it would yield, to a more peaceful frame of mind and a desire for common co-operation in the repair of damages.

War No Cure

On the contrary, war has proved that it is not a purge of any evil passion; it has deepened suspicions and animosities and the belief in violence and violent methods.

The result of this violence is that people are living in fear and anxiety. The old security, the sense of settled order and of constitutional principles which no party would touch, has largely gone and the basis for peaceful economic co-operation with it.

The first thing to do is to endeavor after a genuine peace—a peace of the spirit and not merely of the letter.

In substance, if not in form, the Versailles Treaty has to be revised. Russia has to be admitted to the comity of nations.

There is a definite school of opinion which, regardless of consequences, is all for national, racial, class ascendany and is prepared for any degree of violence in the execution of its aims and completely reckless of the probabilities of ultimate disaster.

It is with the greatest apprehension that any student outside the political world must have witnessed the growing influence of this reactionary body. If it should come to dominate in the counsels of England it is difficult to see what moderating force would remain.

After all, the historic part of England has been to be the moderator in Europe. It was so in 1815 and the main hope for Europe is that it should be so again in 1923.

Reducing the Hazard

"The enlightened employer interests himself in the conservation of the health of his employes and in their safety, so far as he can provide them," says the Chicago Tribune.

For many years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has followed this plan as a part of its established policy.

This Company maintains an exceptionally high standard of safety insurance. It not only provides safety devices but by encouraging the organization of safety committees in all of its refineries, it has been successful in reducing accidents in its refineries to a point which actually is below that of many businesses naturally less hazardous.

As an example of its efforts in this direction is cited the fact that all Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries are provided with elaborate fire-fighting devices, of which live steam and chemicals are notable refinements.

The Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognize that an employe who believes himself to be well-treated and secure is a better worker and is more interested in giving full service both to the Company and to the public than is the employe who lacks this feeling of security.

The management of this Company believes that every constructive measure for the benefit of its employes is a definite factor in lowering the cost of doing business, in securing greater efficiency, and ultimately lowering prices of its products to the consumer.

Hazard reduction is but one item, though an important one, in the Company's complete program of attention to the well-being of its employes. Other items include liberal compensation, good working conditions, steady work, and insurance in so far as is possible against unemployment. In addition this Company has devised an annuity system to provide for the protection of those who have grown old in its service.

The efforts of the management to provide ways and means of eliminating the dangers of a highly hazardous occupation is reflected in the enthusiasm of the workers and the whole-hearted endorsement of 26,560 stockholders, not one of whom owns as much as 10 percent of the total.

A Smile

A smile is quite a funny thing;
It wrinkles up your face,
And, when it's gone you never find
Its secret binding place.

But far more wonderful it it
To see what smiles can do;
You smile at one, he smiles at you,
And so one smile makes two.

He smiles at some one, since you smiled,
And then that one smiles back,
And than one smiles, until in truth
You fail in keeping track.

And since a smile can do great good
By cheering hearts of care,
Let's smile and smile, and not forget
That smiles go everywhere.

Did you ever see anything that looked cheaper than a man after his bluff was called

Just let some Maryville personage who is prominent or near prominent participate in some big event and watch them grab the papers to see if their name was mentioned although they have always said they hated publicity.

Our neighbor's little boy heard his parents talking about Willow street the other evening. "I know where it is," he said. "Well, then tell use where it is," his father said. "It is where the switches grow."

There are a lot of people who believe there is just as much flame in the candle which burns at both ends and the one which burns at only one end.

Did you ever see a more disgusting person than the one who glorifies in being a martyr? Speaking of martyrs, if you are one, probably you deserve to be one.

When we think of the medals they used to pin on kings, emperors, czars, kaisers and other useless personages for doing nothing we are glad to observe that there are a lot of men who could be given the same kind of medals.

Perhaps the reason the average woman carried her heart on her sleeve is because few gowns are made with pockets.

COUNTY B. B. TOURNAMENT MORE THAN PAYS OUT

Surplus Is Left After Board of Control Pays Bills Saturday—Amendments Made.

The Board of Control of the Nodaway County Outdoor Basketball League met Saturday in the annual business meeting of the league. Several matters of business were taken up, the most important of which, were amendments submitted by the committee on rules. The most important amendment provides that each school of the league, shall report to the secretary, on blanks furnished by the league, on each game played not later than one week after the contest. Another amendment provides that each school submit the names of their eligible players at least ten days before the tournament, signed by the superintendent and high school teachers, and that the secretary furnish each member school, a list at least three days before the tournament.

At this meeting, bills for the tournament were allowed, and it was found that the receipts of the tournament left some surplus after the bills were paid.

The meeting was held at the courthouse with County Superintendent L. G. Somerville, presiding as chairman. The Board of Control is composed of two delegates from each of the high schools in the county that plays outdoor basketball.

The mythical "all conference teams" have been selected. The State Teachers College did not place a man on either the first or the second team. However this team was picked by Ed Cochrane, Sport Editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post, and as he only witnessed one of the games in which the locals played, he did not have much of a chance to see the merit of several of the players. Nevertheless, he should have taken some things into consideration. Without doubt Lon Wilson is a better half back than at least one of Mr. Cochrane's selections and Leston Webb is just as good an end as either of his second team selections.

No all-Northwest high school was picked so it is impossible to state just how the different scribes rate the members of Coach Lawrence's eleven. Had a first and second team been picked, more likely some of the Maryville men would have landed a berth.

The State Teachers College team finished the season with a tie for third place in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association and the Maryville High School team finished in a tie with St. Joseph Benton for third place among the high schools of Northwest Missouri.

The record of both teams was good. The high school played a whirlwind of a game, winning all of her contests until the one with Cameron at St. Joseph the Saturday before Turkey Day. Captain O'Banion proved to be a worthy captain and he and his team mates followed Coach Lawrence's directions well and made an ultra-creditable showing.

The Bearcats started their season with games with the Springfield and Kirksville teachers, two of the three leaders of the Association. The games, both lost, caused Maynor's men to start an uphill battle for the rest of the season. They performed well and it is generally conceded that if the Kirksville game had been at the last of the season that the score might have been reversed.

Maryville should be proud of both of these teams. They played well and their records are very creditable.

In the all-Valley mythical team the Nebraska Cornhuskers placed four men, Drake place two, the Kansas Aggies two, and Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma each netted one position.

Another funny thing is the fact the Lincoln, the Missouri star of the annual Turkey Day game, did not get a place on either the first or second team.

PREACHER WILL NOT VOUCH FOR HIS CHURCH FLOCK

(Elizabeth City, N. C., Independent)

"One member of our church is in the penitentiary and I suspect we have a lot of other members who ought to be there," declared Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, pastor of the First M. E. Church South of Elizabeth City, addressing the Committee of 100 on Prison Legislation in Greensboro the other day.

Mr. Wilson's remarks were brought out by a fight made by certain ministers to suppress a statement that fifty percent of the men in North Carolina jails and convict camps in North Carolina claimed church membership. Mr. Wilson said he would interpose no objection to such a statement as he could not see that such a statement in any way reflected upon the church or the ministry, since the church is as much an asylum for lost souls as a tabernacle for saints. Mr. Wilson said he couldn't say what percentage of criminals in his town belonged to the church, conducting with the statement above quoted.

Six dates for the Nodaway County Agriculture films have been booked so far this month by George A. Pickens, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. In most instances the pictures will be shown at the rural schools in connection with a program given by the pupils of the school. One date was scheduled for tomorrow night, but had to be cancelled on account of Mr. Pickens being in St. Louis on that date.

REPUBLICANS GIVE UP HOPE OF PASSING THE DYER BILL

B. A. JONES GETS PRAISE FROM P. O. DEPARTMENT

Burlington Junction Rural Carrier, Born Without Legs, Gets Compliment for Record

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4—Despite the fact that he was born without legs, B. A. Jones of Burlington Junction, Mo., has served as a rural mail carrier for the last twenty-one years, and in all that time has failed only four times to carry his route, which extends for twenty-five and a half miles. Illness caused these lapses.

So interested were department officials in Jones' case that his service record and appointment statement were called for and Assistant Postmaster General Billany wrote a letter, congratulating him upon his efficient service performed "in spite of a physical defect that well might have discouraged a person of less fortunate temperament, and with less determination to succeed in life."

"It seems to me," General Billany said, "that your success in overcoming the handicap which nature so strangely imposed upon you, may be not only interesting to all carriers, but an inspiration to anyone who may feel that he is laboring under unusual or insuperable difficulties and an encouragement to them to press on in the performance of duties which choice or circumstances may require of him."

Before becoming a letter carrier Jones was a farmer and it is related that in spite of his lack of legs he husked as high as 49 bushels of corn in one day, besides plowing, making hay and feeding stock.
